Justification: The title is being changed because the capstone (COMM499) will be modified to include service learning. This course was previously marked as repeatable up to 3 units. This allowed students to take it once for 3 hours. If they wanted to take a second internship, they were out-of-luck. Therefore, making the course repeatable up to 6 units, allows students to take two 3 unit internships for credit. The course description changed to remove the service learning component and specify the communication focus of the internship.
