3. Justification and Learning Objectives for the Course. (Indicate whether required or elective, the degree it pertains to, and whether it meets University Writing, and/or Language requirements) [Use as much space as necessary]

This is a required course for students seeking a History/Social Studies Single Subject Credential.

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Articulate the unique contributions of and methods in the social sciences.
- Identify and begin practicing specific techniques and dispositions that optimize learning for all students, specifically those who are often marginalized, minoritized, and diserved by teachers and schools due to their culture, ethnicity, gender, linguistic heritage, race, socioeconomic level, and/or sexual orientation.
- Organize the scope and sequence of annual, semester, quarterly, and unit plans of instruction specifically catered to social studies learning.
- Design lesson plans that target high school learners using a variety of pedagogical strategies (e.g. simulations/role playing, dramatics, concept attainment, student research activities, case studies, cooperative learning, graphic organizers and activities using primary sources, cultural artifacts including works of art and literature).
- Engineer “teachable moments” in tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grade classrooms that are developmentally appropriate and academically enriching.
- Use research-proven techniques to promote the academic achievement of students with special needs, including those identified as SPED, EL, and/or GATE.
- Triangulate the rationale for their instructional choices by referencing specific state standards, district and/or school frameworks, and the needs/interests of their students.
- Locate and evaluate an array of social studies teaching resources available in print, digital, and multimedia formats.
• Identify, critique, and innovate a series of assessment techniques that enhance teachers’ capacity to measure achievement and chart progress in their classroom.
• Implement cooperative learning activities in their instructional planning in a manner that promotes the social and intellectual development of students and makes learning fun.
• Scrutinize their teaching practices for their efficacy in producing quantifiable student achievement.
