3. Justification and Learning Objectives for the Course.
   This course fulfills the general education requirement for undergraduate writing and prepares students for success in their courses across the curriculum. Most sections will be linked to other, lower division courses.
   For example, a section of ENGL 105 may be linked to Biology 100. In that case, students will address the subject matter of ENGL 105 using the information they are gaining in BIO 100. The result will be an increased understanding of biology and writing.

   Learning Objectives:
   1. Critical Thinking: Students will achieve the following:
      • an ability to analyze written work
      • an ability to frame conclusions from a range of information
      • an ability to predict outcomes based on known information

   2. Communication Skills: Students will achieve the following:
      • an ability to more clearly and more effectively write academic papers
      • an ability to effectively and convincingly verbalize their ideas
      • an ability to work effectively in group processes

   3. Research Skills: Students will gain the following:
      • a familiarity with research trends and directions
      • a familiarity with major data bases
      • a proficiency with basic computing skills
      • an ability to discern valid research conclusions
      • the ability to design, conduct and defend a research project

   4. Self Development
      • ability to cogently reflect on roles of learning on personal and intellectual growth
