3. Justification and Requirements for the Course. (Make a brief statement to justify the need for the course)

A. Justification:

The sociology of education is one of the fundamental sub-disciplines of sociology. The American Sociology Association (ASA) publishes one of several reputable scholarly journals devoted to the topic, and there are several international academic organizations serving researchers in the field. As a course, the sociology of education is a standard elective normally offered in established undergraduate programs. Our proposed course will expose students to basic topics related to the sociology of education. The assigned literature will feature classic and contemporary sociological texts that provide students with a general knowledge of significant theoretical paradigms and public issues related to schooling in contemporary societies. Students will be required to demonstrate knowledge of the material presented in class by taking two examinations and writing a research paper.

B. Degree Requirement: ☒ Elective for the Major/Minor

Note: Submit Program Modification if this course changes your program.

4. Learning Objectives. (Bullets, will occur upon carriage return)

Upon completion of the course, the student will be able to:

- Discuss theoretical concepts and forms used by sociologists of education.
- Describe research methodologies used by sociologists of education; including ethnography, content analysis, and statistical analysis.
- Explain how schools reproduce social structure.
- Construct relevant arguments using data from the Department of Education's National Center for Education Statistics.
- Demonstrate familiarity with current social controversies relating to educational policy.
- Produce a research paper that shows substantial expertise in a specific area of academic inquiry relating to the course.
- Explain how sociological resources may be effectively used to solve problems in schools.

5. Course Content in Outline Form. (Be as brief as possible, but use as much space as necessary)
