4. Justification and Learning Objectives for the Course. (Indicate whether required or elective, and whether it meets University Writing, and/or Language requirements) [Use as much space as necessary]

OLD
This course would: 1) be a General Education course in Category C: Art, Literature, Languages and Cultures, subcategory C-3a: Languages; 2) fulfill the current second language graduation requirement; 3) provide the background preparation toward the proposed Spanish minor; 4) be a general elective. The course would be of interest to incoming freshmen as well as transfer students.
Students with two or more years of high school Spanish taken within the last three years not receive GE credit for SPAN 101.
Several reasons for this are:
   •For students with 2+ years of high school Spanish taken

NEW Same as listed in "OLD" within the last 3 years, SPAN 101 would be a review. These students should not receive GE credit for material they covered in high school.

• Students with this background intimidate other students who are novices at Spanish and who need to be in SPAN 101.

• Some universities do not give GE credit for SPAN
101 (e.g., CSU San Bernardino, Sonoma State).

• Other universities stipulate that SPAN 101 not be available for credit (GE or college credit) to students with two or more years of Spanish within the last three years (e.g., CSU Chico).

Learning Objectives:
A partial list of what students will be able to do, in Spanish, includes:
• learn basic geography and demographic information about the Spanish-speaking world
• ask, answer and report on basic information about classmates’
names, places of origin, classes, and majors
• describe, ask and answer questions and make comparison related to people’s daily routines in the U.S. and the Spanish-speaking world • express (orally and in writing) time of day, days of the week,
months and seasons of the year
• describe the weather and relate it to leisure time activities
• ask and answer questions about last night’s and last week’s activities
• match key historical events (re: Spain and the Americas) with their year of occurrence
• ask classmates about their family trees and draw and label
• explore the concept of the individual and of the family from the student’s perspective, the national perspective, and the Hispanic perspective • examine changing family size and life expectancy in U.S. and in several Spanish-speaking countries
• describe (orally and in writing) people’s physical appearance and understand descriptions given by others • examine the diverse ethnicities found in the Spanish-speaking world (e.g., Spain, Dominican Republic, Bolivia)
• describe (orally and in writing) meals, with basic foods and snacks
• examine how some eating habits and table manners in Spanish-speaking countries differ from those in the U.S.
• gain familiarity with the art work of several Hispanic artists.

Justification: The proposed change would address students who enroll in the course--who may not have studied Spanish in the U.S.--but whose proficiency level in the language is greater than those of traditional beginners. One recent example was a student born and educated in Spain until the age of 12 who needed to take a higher level Spanish course.

7. General Education Categories: All courses with GE categories notations (including deletions) must be processed at the GE website: http://summit.csuci.edu/geapproval. Upon completion, the GE Committee will forward your documents to the Curriculum Committee for further processing.

Proposer of Course Modification

October 31, 2007
Date
Request for SPAN 101: Elementary Spanish I to be added to GE Category C3a: Language

Committee Response:
Approved by committee on 10-31-2007

Criteria and Justifications Submitted:

- Develop students' ability to respond subjectively as well as objectively to experience
  Students are actively engaged since the first day of instruction with the subject matter. In addition to learning language and cultural information, students are asked to share information about their own experiences as well as give opinions about cultural similarities and differences.

- Cultivate and refine students' affective, cognitive, and physical faculties through studying great works of the human imagination
  Part of the cultural information examined in the course are great works of art (e.g., Picasso, El Greco, Frida Kahlo) and students are asked what they think of same.

- Increase awareness and appreciation in the tradition humanistic disciplines such as art, dance, drama, literature, and music.
  Students are exposed to various genres of music and dance from the Spanish-speaking world. References are made to great writers (e.g., Cervantes as the Spanish-language Shakespeare).

- Examine the interrelationship between the creative arts, the humanities, and self
  Students are asked to reflect and respond to the interrelationship between how the Spanish language is used and expressed and the cultural themes reflected in practices and great works.

- Include an exposure to world cultures
  Spanish is spoken as the first language by 400 million people in 21 countries, in Spain, the Americas and Africa. In addition to learning demographic information, students learn about numerous cultural and sociological issues such as the great diversity of the Spanish-speaking world in its ethnicities, traditions and cultural products.

- Include a cultural component and not solely skills acquisition Cultural information is found in each lesson taught. In fact, every quiz and exam has a section dedicated to culture (practices, products, belief systems).

- Include human to human communication
  One of the major objectives of the CSUCI Spanish program is the development of effective communicative competence, requiring consistent and frequent human to human communication. Pair and small-group work is commonplace throughout the curriculum.
Approval Sheet

Program/Course:  Span 101
