3. Course Content in Outline Form if Being Changed. [Be as brief as possible, but use as much space as necessary]

OLD

NEW

Content of the independent elective will depend on the course of study elected by the student and faculty member.

4. Justification and Learning Objectives for the Course. (Indicate whether required or elective, and whether it meets University Writing, and/or Language requirements) [Use as much space as necessary]

This elective course builds flexibility in the Anthropology curriculum by enabling students to benefit from faculty expertise in areas not generally offered in the curriculum. Students generally propose either directed readings in depth or an independent research project with the approval of the supervising faculty member. Students may also engage in library research or active fieldwork. Depending on the project developed and on the units of credit requested, the student will be able to:

- (1) Develop a comprehensive reading list in an emerging area of the discipline or an area tailored to the student's specific research needs;
- (2) Produce, expand, or polish existing student work for presentation at a conference;
- (3) Design/conduct an original project or fieldwork

5. References. [Provide 3-5 references on which this course is based and/or support it.]

OLD n/a

NEW n/a

6. Indicate Changes and Justification for Each. [Check all that apply and follow with justification. Be as brief as possible but, use as much space as necessary.]
