Graduation Language Requirement. The committee agreed on the language to be communicated to Terry Ballman about the committee's position on her proposal.
- 3. With the Center Directors, the committee discussed the role of the directors in approval of courses, specifically for service learning and for multiculturalism, and the role of the CME in approving course substitutions for the multicultural requirement. The directors agreed that this involvement is a good idea and discussed the procedures for doing so; the idea of using a web-based submission process such as that used for GE proposals was well-received. All agreed to move forward in thinking about the process for involving the centers, though no specific decisions were made at this time.
