4. Justification and Learning Objectives for the Course. (Indicate whether required or elective, and whether it meets University Writing, and/or Language requirements) [Use as much space as necessary]

OLD

This class is required for the emphasis in Theatre. One of the essential goals of the Performing Arts program is to provide students with opportunities to gain expertise and practical experience in theatre. This course requires students to propose projects that will involve them in multiple aspects of theatre production. This class is the primary locus for students to gain interdisciplinary experience in the performing arts.

NEW

This class is a required core course for Performing Arts majors and is an elective for Art majors. One of the essential goals of the Performing Arts program is to provide students with opportunities to gain expertise and practical experience in the performing arts. As performers, students will act in one or more roles, play a musical instrument, sing and/or dance, as required by any given production. As off-stage participants, students will take on assignments as Stage Managers, Assistant Stage Directors, Assistant Musical Directors, Assistant Choreographers, Stage/Production Assistants, Costume/Lighting/Scenic Technicians, or Costume/Lighting/Scene Designers. Faculty will, depending on the topic of the production, direct, choreograph, conduct, design, or coordinate and supervise student directors, choreographers, or designers.

Learning Objectives:

Upon completion of this course students will be able to:
(Press enter for the next bulleted item)

- Develop expertise and practical experience in a Performing Arts production.
- Evaluate and reflect, in writing, on their creative process and learning experience.
- Apply multiple aspects of performance in production.

Collaborate in the process of preparation and performance of a production.

5. References. [Provide 3-5 references on which this course is based and/or support it.]

OLD

NEW References will vary by topic. For example, for a production of A Midsummer Night's Dream:

Cohen, Ralph Alan. ShakesFear and How to Cure It! Clayton, DE: Prestwick House, 2007.

Shakespeare, William. A Midsummer Night's Dream. Ed. Harold F. Brooks. London: Arden, 1979.

Thorne, Gary. Stage Design: A Practical Guide. Ramsbury, Marlborough, Wiltshire: Crowood Press, 2003.

6. Indicate Changes and Justification for Each. [Check all that apply and follow with justification. Be as brief as possible but, use as much space as necessary.]

- Course title
- Prefix/suffix
- Course number
- Units
- Staffing formula and enrollment limits
- Prerequisites/corequisites
- Catalog description
- Course content
- References
- GE
- Other Justification, fee

Justification: The major modification is the change from a PATH course, only focusing on theatre, to a PA /ART course, which allows for the possible integration of all the performing and visual arts, and which reflects the collaborations common in professional productions. This prefix change also indicates that the course has moved from being a requirement for PATH students only, to being a core course required of all PA majors. The changes in description and content clarify the role of faculty in this course, and highlight the interdisciplinary and collaborative aspects of this course. The course number has been lowered to allow for the adjustment in the prerequisite, which is necessary for more faculty control over participation, and reflects the reality that not all collaborative performing arts productions will be musical theatre. A laboratory fee will be charged to cover expenses such as make-up, costumes, royalty fees, or scenic elements, as well as any potential breakage.
